

Kassie

Love swells in my heart as I look down at her sweet face. In her eyes I am perfect just being me and that is enough for her. Her laughter reminds me of youthful innocence and fills here heart and soul with joy whenever she is near me. She reminds me of the beauty and purity our world has to offer. With her love, I can move mountain and accomplish anything. With her love I can truly be free.